Resolution #30053

Mr. Michael Hanlon stated that it is the same gig of the last one. It is a sole source.

Mr. Daryl Hendricks asked if Ms. Baraket if she had any comments.

Ms. Jessica Baraket stated that she has nothing else to add on R117.

Mr. Daryl Hendricks asked if there were any questions from his colleagues or the public.

Mr. Ed Zucal stated that he will be abstaining from the vote due to that fact that he is employed there. He stated that he is not sure what the Fatality Review Team is. He doesn't know what it involves on their end.

Ms. Vicky Kistler stated that it is the Opioid Death Review Team that they spoke about, the city needs the Coroner to go through the Coroner's data in order to abstract the variables from the Death Report and investigations that fit the specific Fatality Review. For example, if someone dies of an overdose, the city needs to know if that person was in treatment before. This will allow the city to be able to compile exactly the same data on each case that they interview. It will require extra time from the Coroner's staff directly related to this. The city's funder has identified all the other Fatality Reviews pay under the grant to the Coroner for those specific hours.

Mr. Ed Zucal asked what is Mr. Grim doing then.

Ms. Vicky Kistler stated that Mr. Grim is running the Fatality Review as part of the city's staff. He is taking the data that is coming from Blue Guardian, that comes from the Coroner's office and the Drug and Alcohol Agencies and he is going through the data as part of the team and then compiling the Report back to the Fact Team. The Coroner's office is the only office allowed to go directly into the records.

Ms. CeCe Gerlach asked on an annual basis she assumes that it happens on a regular basis. Once the data is collect then what? If the purpose is collecting the data is just to have the data or is it so that when you are competing for grants you can state this is how many overdoses we had and these folks were in treatment. What is done with the data?

Ms. Vicky Kistler stated that it is a great question and modeled after the Child Death Review Team model. In a Child Death Review Team, what happens is that we identify preventable issues with an overdose death and non-preventable issues and then they use that data that comes to them about these overdoses to make recommendations back to the operating agencies. If a person says that they were on a waiting list or their family says that they were on a waiting list for treatment, they have numerous cases like that. That helps them launch the argument that we need more treatment. If there are any more extenuating circumstances that they find commonalities is when they make service recommendations. It will help the city with grants, but moreover, it will help them to start to paint a picture of what are the situation that contribute to addiction. Right now, people are speculating about Covid, that Covid is leading to more addiction. Is Covid leading to more addiction? The Health Bureau will find that out based on interviewing those families who have lost someone to an overdose right now. They are just compiling a team now. They are hoping that the data will drive action and they can tailor program better to the needs of the folks that unfortunately we lost to prevent ourselves from losing more.

Mr. Daryl Hendricks asked if there were any other questions from anybody else.

Ms. Cynthia Mota stated that she likes what Ms. Kistler said to drive action. That is what we need with the Opioid issues that we have throughout the country. That was a great question, Ms. Gerlach. Once you get the data, then what. Hopefully, we will see more money coming to the city if we see a correlation with Covid and overdose.

Mr. Daryl Hendricks asked if there were any other questions.
